Articles that had been cast aside as useless by their original owners were placed with new owners who had use and need for just such articles. The total proceeds of the sale amounted to $34.34.

"LITTLE LOST SISTER."

"And it always will be."

The foregoing aphorism may have been true a hundred years ago, but it is sadly off the mark today.

Perhaps one of the most notable plays which has tended to point the way is "Little Lost Sister," dramatized by E. E. Rose from the adventures of Miss Virginia Brooks, in private life known as Mrs. Charles S. Washburne, wife of a Chicago newspaper reporter, who has now arranged to publish her life story in book form, under the same title as the play.

This play tells in a straightforward, truthful manner, the underlying cause, the effect, and the conclusion of a misled life. It shows how easy it is to go the wrong way and how hard it is to get back among your old friends. It is true to life in that it points out the great white slave evil of today, and also points the way that is right, and hence its mission of good. Every girl can see it.

Will appear at the Princess Theatre, matinee and night, Wednesday, December 23rd. Seats now on sale.
